USE TRANSLATION TO COMMUNICATE YOUR MESSAGE AND CREATE A POSITIVE HEALTHCARE EXPERIENCE.

When you make an effort to communicate with your members in their primary language, the benefits are enormous:

- > Improve understanding of insurance and plan guidelines
- > Reduce medical misunderstandings, billing errors and potential malpractice charges
- > Provide the opportunity for more positive health outcomes across the board

Accurate, high-quality translation is key to getting your message across to members and potential members. At Avantpage, we specialize in translation for the healthcare industry, and handle translation duties for some of today's most important healthcare players.

When you reach out to members in their own language, you will build goodwill, support new business initiatives and create a way to foster long-term member relationships.
